

Fire takes heavy toll in Sao Paulo

SAO PAULO (UPI) — Fire roared through the upper floors of the 25-story Joelma Building in downtown Sao Paulo for four hours today, taking a heavy toll of lives. Dense flames and smoke kept rescue helicopters away until firemen finally contained the blaze.

The city morgue reported at 11 a.m. (10 a.m. EDT) that at least 20 persons had died in the blaze. More than 100 persons were rushed to hospitals, many of them with severe burns.

Witnesses said that more than a dozen persons leaped desperately from the roof of the building to a neighboring building in an attempt to escape the flames while helicopters hovered overhead trying unsuccessfully to get lines to the rooftop of the burning building.

Firemen raced up ladders, braving the flames that shot up 150 feet into the air, to rescue dozens of people from lower floors.

Joao Alberto Moretti, trapped on the 13th floor, was the first person known to have escaped from the blazing building. He clambered downward from window to window to the seventh floor where firemen reached him with a ladder.

During the worst of the fire, firemen and police painted huge signs calling for calm and displayed them to the people trapped inside. The signs said "firemen here", and "be calm, people".

The Joelma building houses an automatic parking garage on its first 10 floors and the rest of the modern structure contains the headquarters of the Crefisul Investment Bank. The fire began on the 12th floor, firemen at the scene reported, probably in an air conditioning duct.

The flames did not touch the garage where cars full of gasoline would have added to the holocaust.

The helicopters dispatched to the scene by Sao Paulo State Governor Laudo Natel were at first unable to get to the roof, where about 50 people were waiting, but airmen dropped milk to victims to drink while awaiting rescue. Firemen said milk has detoxifying properties.

Protesting high fuel costs

Truckers strike spreading

United Press International

A strike by truck drivers spread across the nation today shutting off deliveries of fuel to gasoline-parched New Jersey, Florida, West Virginia and other states.

The strike by drivers protesting high fuel costs hit hard at the industrial heartland and the Midwest where manufacturing plants and slaughterhouses dependent on supplies delivered by trucks announced closures or said they would shut down, throwing many thousands of employees out of work if the strike lasts much longer.

Four oil companies in New Jersey—Shell, Chevron, American and Hess—said no fuel was delivered from their New Jersey depots today because of the strike. Many gas stations in West Virginia said they could not get their February allocations delivered.

Unofficial estimates showed that less than 20 per cent of service stations had gas left in the Metropolitan Miami area and there was no respite in sight because drivers supposed to deliver fresh supplies went on strike today.

As many as 75,000 auto workers could be idled in Ohio alone, and thousands in other industries in Pennsylvania, Ohio and other states, according to company officials reporting the impact of the strike by truckers to protest high prices of diesel fuel.

Occasional violence which has caused at least one death prompted the Pennsylvania governor to call out the National Guard to patrol highways in the state. National Guard wrecking rigs were on standby in New Jersey in case truckers attempted to block highways.

The strike, which at first took firm hold only in Pennsylvania and Ohio, was spreading by this morning to include truckers in California, Texas, Virginia, Connecticut, New Jersey, Maryland, Tennessee, Kentucky, West Virginia and Alabama to a lesser extent.

Bursts of gunfire and rocks dropped from overpasses were reported in many parts of the country.

Police said such incidents were obviously intended to intimidate drivers to join the strike.

Although the full extent of the strike was difficult to gauge, it held the threat of creating serious disruption in heavily industrialized Ohio.

General Motors said the strike could force it to close all 21 of its plants in Ohio by next week, throwing close to 75,000 employees out of work.

At least one steel plant has closed, another will shut down some of its operations Monday, and others said they were hard hit.

The Pompano Beach, Fla. produce market, largest winter terminal in the nation, said supplies to the northeastern states, including New York, were jeopardized by the strike.

GM spokesman John Grix said the first Ohio plant to close would be the giant complex at Lordstown, where 11,000 workers produce the hot-selling Chevrolet Vega, because the strike was holding up delivery of parts.

Drivers in many parts of the country ran into gunfire, stonings, roofing tacks spread on highways, air hoses cut, tires slashed and boulders dropped from overpasses if they kept trucking, police reported.

Some trucks were traveling in convoys for safety, occasionally with police escorts. Some trucking firms even went so far as to warn drivers to stay off Pennsylvania and Ohio roads where violence was reported the worst.

Fire, blackout starts Lompoc day

That quiet grey dawn that ushered in the day was deceptive.

It wasn't all that grey for the fire department and it was anything but uneventful for other agencies of government.

At 3:05 a.m. today fire of undetermined origin destroyed an abandoned house at 415 E. Ocean Ave., despite the efforts of city firemen aided by reserve forces.

The house was vacant and reportedly slated for demolition. Fire gutted the interior of the house and collapsed the roof.

At 4 a.m. today a malfunctioning in the city's Olive Avenue Substation blacked out homes in the west and southwest portions of the city for 32 minutes. Cause of the incident was being investigated today, according to city utility chief William Ruffner.

Affected were homes south of Ocean Avenue and west of F Street to Bodger Road, and west of O Street and between Ocean and College Avenues. No incidents were reported as a result of the blackout.

At 7:40 a.m. today a pickup truck driven by Jack Vesterby, 50, struck and killed a Black Angus cow, owned by El Capitan Ranch. The mishap occurred on Highway 246 near Union Sugar Avenue, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Water workshop speakers named

Air Force Col. S.J. Lustig will speak tomorrow along with other experts at a Water Workshop organized by the American Association of University Women.

Lustig's appearance was confirmed today by Carol Nash, AAUW official. The colonel is expected to show charts outlining Vandenberg's future water needs.

He will share the speaker's platform with water rights attorney Stanley C. Hatch; with Al Thompson, Lompoc water superintendent; and with Norman Caldwell, county director of public works.

The workshop is scheduled for Veterans Memorial Building, H Street and Locust Avenue. Registration begins at 9 a.m.

Purpose of the program is to help educate the public on crucial water problems facing the area. It will last into the afternoon, according to Mrs. Nash.

Nixons not California residents

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A state tax official said today President Nixon and his wife, who vote at San Clemente, are not considered residents of California for personal income tax purposes.

Martin Huff, executive officer of the state Franchise Tax Board, said the board's legal staff had reviewed the President's income tax status and concluded, "President Richard M. Nixon and Patricia R. Nixon are nonresidents."

The White House announced Dec. 8 that Nixon had paid no state income taxes during the first four years of his presidency. Officials said the decision not to pay the tax was entirely legal and based on California statutes which differentiate between a "domicile" and a "residence."

But Huff said the legal staff ruled strictly on the question of the President's residency and said it did not necessarily follow that if a person was a nonresident that he would escape taxation. He said that issue would be dealt with subsequently.

The White House had said the decision not to pay California taxes was based on law which differentiates between a domicile, which is required for voting, and a citizen resident, who is liable for income taxes.

Huff told a news conference if it is "deemed appropriate for elected public officials who are domiciled in this state to be residents for personal income tax purposes, then the revenue and taxation code should be amended to so provide."

Detox center move halted

The operators of an alcoholic detoxification center at Ocean Avenue and D Street, in Lompoc, have reportedly agreed to abandon plans for a secondary treatment program in a residential community of Mission Hills.

George Hutson, field deputy for Fourth District Supervisor Francis H. Beattie said county planning officials had told Vi and Charles Willis, detoxification center operators to "cease and desist" in plans to board alcoholics at their home at 1738 Calle Lindero, Mission Hills.

The Willis couple moved their detoxification center from its original location on Sweeney Road, southeast of Lompoc, to the Ocean Avenue and D Street site recently.

One hurt in four-car accident

A Santa Maria woman, Veola King, 51, suffered minor injuries yesterday in a chain reaction accident involving her car and three others near Vandenberg Air Force Base.

The woman was treated at Lompoc Hospital and released.

The accident occurred at about 1 p.m. on Lompoc-Casmalia Road at the intersection with Vandenberg Road. Mrs. King was driving north when her car slammed into the rear of a car driven by Kenneth Vance, 36, of 106 Willow St., VAFB according to the CHP. The impact of the collision caused Vance's car to ram the rear of a car driven by Robin Tosch, 29, of 1004 Walnut Ave., VAFB, and his car in turn was forced into a car driven by Hildegard Nowland, 36, of 316 E. North Ave., Lompoc.

TWO WRECKED CARS flank a California Highway Patrol investigator's car in accident scene near Vandenberg Air Force Base's main gate yesterday. Despite damage to the two cars and to two others that are not shown, only one of the drivers received minor injuries.

The CHP said Vance and the other two drivers were stopped on Lompoc-Casmalia Road waiting for the intersectional control light to change in their favor when the collision occurred.

The car driven by the King woman crossed over the raised center divider after striking Vance's car and came to rest in the intersection.

In an accident last night on Highway 101 two miles south of Santa Barbara, Clarence Rigsby, 34, of Port Hueneme, was killed when the furniture truck he was driving swerved off the road and hit a eucalyptus tree headon. The man was dead on arrival at St. Francis Hospital in Santa Maria, despite first aid efforts of a passerby.

CHP investigators said Rigsby may have fallen asleep at the wheel of his truck, or become unconscious for some reason.

California truckers join nation-wide protest

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dozens of independent California truck drivers joined the nation-wide truckers protest Thursday night by driving their rigs into at least four Los Angeles area fuel depots and blocking the pump islands.

It was the truckers' first successful Southern California protest of the government's fuel allocation policies.

By nightfall the big double rigs were slanting across the paved aprons of all four stations, preventing the owners from selling fuel.

The protest was expected to last through today.

At least one of the station owners, Kathy Leach, said the independent truckers represent more than half her business and that she refused to take legal action against them because she sympathizes with the aims of the protest.

"They told me they're protesting high prices and not enough fuel, and I am in full agreement with them."

"I'm not going to throw them out because I think they're partially justified," said the owner of the downtown Los Angeles Truck Terminal.

Less than a mile from the downtown fuel depot, at the Commercial Super Service Station, assistant manager Joe Ponce said the double rigs of 10 truckers were blocking the island pump.

"We've got the gas," he said, "But we just can't sell it. When the boss heard about the blockade, he just called and told me to close down for the night."

Zodiac surfaces again after long silence

By HARRY J. CROMPE
Editor

After a communications absence of more than two-and-a-half years, Zodiac has surfaced bringing renewed hope to Santa Barbara County sheriff detectives that his capture could shed light on the brutal murder of two Lompoc teen-agers in 1963.

The elusive Zodiac killer said in a cryptic note Wednesday received by the San Francisco Chronicle newspaper that he has killed 37 persons in the San Francisco Bay area. It was the first communication from the psychopathic killer since March 22, 1971.

Sheriff detectives believe there is a "high degree of probability" that Zodiac is responsible for the murders of 18-year-old Robert Domingos and Linda Edwards, 17, on the eve of their graduation from Lompoc High School in 1963. The murders occurred on a lonely area of the beach, south of Gaviota.

Police say they have only linked six slayings directly to the Zodiac despite his boasts this week that he is responsible for 37 murders.

In his recent communication, Zodiac said the movie Exorcist, "was the best satirical comedy that I have ever seen."

"P.S.," he added, "if I do not see this note in your paper, I will do something nasty which you know I'm capable of doing."

Homicide inspectors said a handwriting expert has confirmed that Zodiac indeed penned the note.

Because of the long absence of Zodiac communications, law enforcement officers throughout the state theorized that the self-confessed killer may have died.

Sheriff John Carpenter yesterday said that the news of his resurfacing was "welcome" and that all efforts will continue to firm up the links his detectives have formulated leading to suspicion of Zodiac.

Inflation expected to get worse

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Inflation and unemployment will get worse, not better, in 1974 and the economy will totter at the threshold of recession for much of the year, President Nixon's chief economic advisers said today.

In a pessimistic prediction, the Council of Economic Advisers said prices would advance at a 7 per cent rate in the next 12 months, with food and fuel prices leading the charge.

If the forecast is correct, it would make 1974 the worst year for domestic inflation since World War II and would surpass the inflation rate of 1973, an unusually bad year for prices.

The forecast was published in Nixon's annual economic report and appeared to conflict with Nixon's own goals.

"We cannot accept continuation of the inflation rate of 1973, and still less can we risk its acceleration," Nixon said in a brief message to Congress accompanying the report. "We must dedicate ourselves to carrying on the fight against inflation in 1974 and thereafter."

But the President's strategy, keyed to a $9.4 billion deficit budget for the coming fiscal year, appeared to be aimed at keeping the economy moving and unemployment down, even if it means losing ground in his anti-inflation campaign.

Council Chairman Herbert Stein told reporters Thursday, "We have done the arithmetic. We do not see a path that any reasonable person would describe as a recession." "But," Nixon said in the report, "I cannot assure the American people of an easy time."

Here is the council's 1974 outlook in other areas:

—Unemployment: Job layoffs in industries hit hard by the energy shortage, such as auto manufacturing and tourism, will help push the unemployment rate to an average 5.5 per cent during 1974 from last year's 4.9 per cent level.

That means about 5 million Americans out of work compared to 4.3 million last year.

—Economic Growth: Gross National Product (total value of all goods and services) will expand by about 8 per cent to $1,390 billion ($1.4 trillion) but only about 1 per cent of the rise will be "real" or actual gain in output and production. Inflation will account for the remaining 7 per cent.

For the first six months, the growth rate will be flat or may even decline a bit, but the report expects the economy to snap back "by somewhat more than the normal trend rate in the second half."

January unemployment jumps to 5.2 per cent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unemployment in January took its biggest jump upward in four years, rising from 4.8 per cent to 5.2 per cent as the energy crisis and fuel shortages took their toll of jobs, the government said today.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said the number of jobless workers increased last month by 370,000 to a total of 4.7 million. Most of the increase occurred among blue collar workers, many of them in the automobile industry.

The BLS said it couldn't tell precisely how much of the increased joblessness was due to energy shortages, but said there were indications it was "substantial."

In a separate report the department's Manpower Administration said more than 200,000 workers receiving or applying for unemployment insurance benefits last month claimed they lost their jobs directly or indirectly because of the energy crisis.

The 5.2 per cent unemployment rate in January was the largest since the 5.5 per cent of October, 1972 and 5.2 per cent the following month.

The increase from 4.8 per cent in December was the biggest percentage jump since joblessness increased from 3.5 per cent to 3.9 per cent in January, 1970. The last bigger percentage increase occurred in September, 1969 when unemployment went from 3.5 to 4.0 per cent.

The BLS said overall employment, after seasonal adjustment, increased by 212,000 in January, but the number of workers on nonfarm payrolls declined by 260,000, "caused, to some degree, by actual or anticipated shortages of gasoline and other petroleum products."

While many workers were losing their jobs entirely, the average worker who still had a job was working a shorter week and getting a smaller paycheck.

The BLS said the average work week for all workers was 36 hours and 36 minutes, which was 24 minutes shorter than in December and the shortest since monthly work week statistics were started in 1964. The average work week for factory workers declined 48 minutes to 39.9 hours, the shortest in more than two years, and average overtime fell 24 minutes to 3.3 hours per worker for the month.

Weekly earnings in January averaged $145.93, which was $3.24 less than in December.

Seasick hijackers still negotiating

SINGAPORE (UPI) — Four seasick and weary hijackers drifted with three hostages through Singapore harbor today, their commandeered ferry boat out of fuel and at the mercy of fast rip tides carrying the vessel toward Indonesian waters.

A day and a half after the pro-Arab hijackers tried to blow up the Shell refinery here and hijacked the ferry, no solution to deadlocked negotiations for the release of the hostages was in sight. They demanded today that the Japanese ambassador trade himself for the three Singapore men held aboard the ferry but got no response.

A Singapore government official admitted the unwillingness of Japanese Ambassador Tokichiro Uomoto to trade himself for the hostages on a promised escape from Singapore for the hijackers "was one of the problems." The guerillas had also demanded a plane to fly them to the Middle East.

The ferry Laju ran out of fuel and was carried along on southerly rip tides in the direction of Indonesian waters after the hijackers were seen hurriedly lowering an anchor as the generators and engines fell silent.

At dusk, the ship was being pulled by the tides along the harbor, nearly colliding with larger vessels, its anchor dragging bottom.

"We're terribly tired," witnesses said one hijacker called in Japanese to a police boat alongside. The man demanded food and beverages for the hostages and shouted, "by 9 tomorrow morning, you please bring an end to this incident."

Arab commentators in the Middle East said the Singapore guerrillas were connected with the Marxist Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP) and said their Singapore operation points to a sharp rise in the group's foreign activities.

The Palestinian guerrillas have collaborated previously with the ultraradical Japanese Red Army guerrillas abroad. In 1972 they staged a massacre at Tel Aviv's Lod International Airport; in July, 1973, three Palestinians and one Red Army guerrilla hijacked a Japan Airlines 747.

Uomoto used a bullhorn to speak with the commandos from the deck of a ship in Singapore harbor but failed to get them to release the hostages.

Zodiac—

The file on the Domingos-Edwards murders is voluminous and the case has always remained active and under the investigative responsibility of sheriff's detective William Baker. Baker has stated that it was not so much hard evidence that linked Zodiac with the double murder, but the pattern of the slaying.

The pattern developed when Zodiac, in a letter to the Los Angeles Times on March 13, 1971, readily admitted the slaying of Riverside City College co-ed Cheri Jo Bates, 18, on Oct. 30, 1966, nearly decapitating her. In the letter he boasted "there are a hell of a lot more (murders) down there" in Southern California. Up to this point, Zodiac's boasts all concerned slayings in the San Francisco Bay area.

Santa Barbara officials state they have "information, to be investigated further, which may place Zodiac in the Santa Barbara area in 1963," the year of the Domingos-Edwards slayings.

The killer of the Riverside co-ed left footprints behind. The same type footprints were also found along the shores of Lake Berryessa in 1968 and 1969, the sight of the Zodiac confessed murders of three young persons from Vallejo and a Pacific Union College co-ed. At the Riverside slaying, the killer wore shoes sold by military exchanges. At the Lake Berryessa slayings, the footprint was less common Air Force boots. Although Santa Barbara detectives did not confirm it, it is possible that footprints were found which would be similar.

Many of Zodiac's messages to newspapers were written in cryptic style and it is believed that this style may have been acquired in a service cryptography school.

The bullet ridden bodies of Domingos and Miss Edwards were found in a smashed lean-to shelter several yards from the beach. The killer had attempted to convert the shelter into a funeral pyre but the pyre had refused to burn. Domingos was shot 11 times and Miss Edwards, eight, by a .22 caliber weapon. Twenty .22 caliber bullet casings were found at and near the scene.

Commission okays plan near airport

A large-lot residential subdivision south of Santa Maria Public Airport seen as a compromise over a previous small-lot tract on the property has gotten approval of the Santa Barbara County Planning Commission.

The development firm, Atlantic and Pacific Building Corp., is proposing 36 parcels on the 73 acre property and has requested up-grading of zoning from 10-R-1 (10,000 square foot lots) to one-acre estate designation.

Santa Maria Airport District officials had questioned wisdom of county approval of the tract because of its location under private plane flight areas, and had asked delay in a decision pending the current revision of the county general plan for the area.

Airport district opposition is expected to be carried before the board of supervisors when the board

More study of new law needed

By DICK PRAUL
County Reporter

Further study of new state legislation which would provide at county expense added pension benefits for 301 Santa Barbara County retirees was seen needed by the county retirement board at a meeting at the county administration building.

County Clerk Howard C. Menzel, board chairman, said the board approved further review of AB 374, the bill enacted by the state legislature which would raise the retirees' benefits on a range from 2 to 10 per cent if implemented by this county.

The cost in county tax funds would be about $1 million, the board has been informed.

Prime function of the retirement board is the safeguarding of the county's multi-million pension fund which could not be tapped for this purpose, Menzel said.

The retirement board is hoping to consider the matter further at its next monthly session Feb. 20.

Meanwhile, it is requesting the board of supervisors to hold off action on the issue until after the Feb. 20 meeting at which several supervisors may be asked to attend.

The retirement board was asked by the supervisors to look into feasibility of implementing the new state legislation after it was learned a number of retirees claimed inflation has undermined their standard of living.

County Retired Employees Association officials said the state law, if applied to this county, would allot a 10 per cent boost to a number in the older group, down to 2 per cent for those retiring in recent years.

Retirement board directors have given the impression they feel that matter of implementing the state legislation in this county is one strictly for the supervisors to decide, as county tax funds are involved exclusively and not county pension funds.

That is why, it was learned, supervisors are expected to be invited to the Feb. 20 meeting to get a closer look at the problem facing the retirement board.

Meanwhile, it was learned, the suggestion that the county consider raising retirement allowances to the level of current salary schedules, has been dropped by the board.

The reason for that is that it is not only felt to be unworkable, but also that there is no existing state legislation allowing it.

Crime prevention brochure free

A brochure aimed at curbing thefts of horses and tack room equipment is available free from the Lompoc sheriff's substation it was announced today by sheriff's detective Stan Otremba.

There have been no recent thefts in the Lompoc Valley area, but there has been a rash elsewhere, according to Otremba. There has also been a rise in the incidence of horse thefts for food purposes, he said.

Election registration light

Registration for the special congressional primary election March 5 for this district was still running disappointingly light at the Santa Barbara County Election Bureau in Santa Barbara at closing hour Thursday.

Election Bureau head Bob Kirkpatrick said registration at the Santa Barbara office and other county registration offices in Santa Maria, Lompoc, Santa Ynez, and Carpinteria would close at 5 p.m. Friday, although registrars can gather signatures up to 5 p.m. Sunday for presentation next week.

Kirkpatrick said he understood that a number of registrars would be at downtown points in the various communities over the weekend and that Democratic headquarters in Santa Barbara would be open for registration over the weekend.

Republican state Sen. Robert Lagomarsino is contesting with seven Democrats in attempting to win the nod for the unexpired term of the late Rep. Charles Teague without going into a runoff.

Thousands of names filed with county

The Citizens for Integrity in County Government filed referendum petitions with thousands of additional names Thursday in carrying their protest to the Santa Barbara County supervisors' new $24,000 salary figure to the deadline for such filings.

County election bureau Bob Kirkpatrick said he had a work force of six women processing the names of those on the petitions, and doubted whether his office would be able to reach the qualifying mark of 8,573 names by Monday when the supervisors will give further consideration to the salary hassle.

Kirkpatrick said that as of closing hour Thursday his office had cleared only 2,400 signatures and others were being disqualified at the rate of 15 to 20 per cent.

He declared his office will not work over the weekend on the petitions.

Citizens' committee leaders said they estimated their volunteer workers have turned in well over 20,000 names protesting the supervisors' 69 per cent pay raise which is due to become effective Monday.

BRIDGE FOR SALE

REDDING (UPI) — Shasta County has decided to sell a large steel bridge, but there's a catch.

The bridge spanned the Sacramento River at nearby Sweetbriar, where flooding two weeks ago tore it loose and sent it to the bottom.

Bickford-Tague vows exchanged

Queen of Angels is ceremony scene

Daly City will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Lawrence Tague, nee Barbara Ann Bickford. The couple's marriage was an evening ceremony Jan. 25 in Queen of Angels Catholic Church. Father Peter McGee officiated at the double ring candlelight service. Assisting was the Rev. Richard E. Harris, pastor of United Church, Vandenberg Village.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bickford, 689 Vela Way, are parents of the bride. Marylan Mortensen is grandmother of the bride. The bridegroom's parents are Mary Tague of Lafayette and John Tague of Millbrae. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Larsen of Oakland are his grandparents.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a princess styled gown of French lace with a train. Lace trimmed the satin collar and cuffs and a satin panel with satin covered buttons formed a neckline to hem accent. Her fingertip veil of illusion was secured by a matching lace cap. Red Baccara roses and white baby's breath fashioned her bouquet.

Attending her sister as honor maid was Miss Linda Bickford of Pleasant Hill. Royal blue velvet with red Baccara rose print fashioned her princess style gown worn with a wide brimmed hat and matching bow trim. She carried a single red rose with ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Cindy Foreman and Andrea Rechnitzer of Chico; Judi Tague of Oakland, sister of the groom; Sandie Luce of Lompoc.

Michael Tague of Lafayette attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Kerry Cerletti, Phil Gravitt, Jeff Price and Bob Wright.

Mary Kaye Humble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Humble, was the flower girl. Rodney Levin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Levin, was ringbearer.

At close of the ceremony, sorority sisters of the bride encircled the couple as they sang their official song. Fraternity brothers of the groom followed suit as they circled the newlyweds for their serenade.

Village Country Club was the wedding reception scene. Attending the guestbook were The Misses Nancy Carter and Chris Van Dewark, both of Chico. Mrs. Reuben Carlson and Mrs. Roger Burris cut and served the wedding cake. Miss Chris Irvin attended the gift table.

For the occasion Mrs. Bickford wore a long gown of burgandy crepe knit with full chiffon skirt and a pink corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a pale blue knit ensemble with a white carnation corsage.

For the couple's wedding trip to Vacation Island, Mission Bay, San Diego the bride wore a burgandy plaid pantsuit and matching accessories.

A graduate of Cabrillo High School class of '71, she attended California State University at Chico for two years. She was a member of Sigma Kappa sorority. She has been employed by a doctors firm in Oakland.

The bridegroom is a 1969 graduate of Pleasant Hill High School and was graduated from California State U at Chico in 1973. He was a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity. He is employed by National Gypsum Co. in San Francisco.

Dear Abby

This city girl isn't in a 'retiring' mood

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for 28 years. I am 55, and Zeke is 57.

After Zeke and I were engaged, he told me he was buying his brother's farm. I told him if that's what he really wanted I did not want to go thru with the marriage because I did not care to live on a farm. We broke our engagement. A few weeks later Zeke called and said he wasn't buying the farm and would I marry him.

To make a long story short, we were married, but I have heard nothing but "farm" since I married him.

Now, Zeke tells me he wants to buy a "nice little 12-acre farm" in the same stinking area we broke our engagement over. He says he wants to "retire" there. Abby, I never wanted to live on a farm, and I sure as heck don't want to "retire" on one.

What should I do?

CITY GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Tell Zeke you still don't want to live on a farm and don't give an inch, or you'll wind up on 12 acres.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Agape in Colorado" — the problem the gentleman had in wondering how he could tell a lady who was wearing a pantsuit that her fly was open. We have a simple solution for that problem. When my sometimes forgetful 7-year-old son is seen in that state, we just say "XYZ," which is a signal meaning, "Examine Your Zipper."

DOTTIE KING

DEAR DOTTIE: Thanks for an A-OK suggestion.

DEAR ABBY: It's past midnight now, and even if I went back to bed and tried to sleep, I couldn't so I might just as well write this.

My sister has a beautiful 3-year-old son who she doesn't appreciate. Sis works Monday thru Friday only to satisfy her extravagant tastes. Her husband makes good money, but Sis never has enough clothes, so she works, too. Sis drops her baby off at Mom's every work day without fail. The baby is never fed, and sometimes he's not even dressed. Mom takes care of him all day until Sis picks him up at 6 p.m. (Mom even gives the baby his supper and has him in his pajamas, bathed, and ready for bed.) Sis doesn't pay Mom once cent, either.

I feel sorry for Mom. She has her own housework to do (three kids and Pop are still at home), and Mom is growing old and tired, but she would never say no to Sis.

There have been weekends when Sis leaves the baby with Mom, but Mom never complains.

Doesn't Sis realize that Mom raised her kids and now Sis should raise her own?

I love my sister and wish she would open her eyes.

NOT AS FORTUNATE

DEAR NOT: Perhaps your signature conveys more than you meant it to. Why don't you tell your sister how you feel? There is always the chance that your mom doesn't feel as burdened by the baby as you think she does.

DEAR ABBY: I am being married soon and am planning my wedding. My older sister was married two years ago in the most beautiful wedding gown and veil I ever saw. I always dreamed of being married in it.

Now I have second thoughts about wearing it because I am very superstitious, and my sister has had terrible luck in her marriage. Her husband got her pregnant right off the bat and ran off, saying he was joining the Marines. She found out he never joined the Marines. He went back to an old girl friend who lives in a nearby town.

Anyway, Abby, I would feel creepy wearing my sister's bridal outfit. Do you believe if I wore it it would bring me bad luck?

SUPERSTITIOUS

DEAR SUPERSTITIOUS: No. But if you do, don't wear it.

Lompoc newcomer tells of life near Rhodesia

Lompoc reminds Christine Landman of the countryside near Rhodesia, her home for more than 30 years. Hills and valleys and the beautiful flowers offer much the same scene, she told her audience as guest speaker for Xi Omicron Tau Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

As a paint contractor on government projects, her husband Al took her to Africa as a bride. There the couple operated a farm with natives as their help. It was an interesting life as they watched customs of the various tribes. Each had their own way of life and segregation was definitely practiced. In political affairs, each tribe had its own party. But so far as they could see, it was the women who carried the work load. The men "rested" while their women did the manual labor.

Native families preferred to live in straw covered huts of their own construction rather than dwellings the Landmans offered. In case they wish to move on, their places are easy to burn. And burning destroys any hex. The workers want no permanent homes.

The extent to which tribal segregation went was a shock to the Landmans. Hiring new workers, they found them literally starving some time later. Investigating the situation, they found that food allotments supposed to be equally distributed, had by-passed the newcomers. They were of another tribe! They got no rations although they worked.

A more light-hearted experience was the occasion when the couple came home one night to find their bedroom filled with natives watching their television. One worker had spotted the "magical" object and invited the others to see.

Omicron Taus were treated to still another program as Mrs. Shef Brown played folk song records of Spain and Italy, and explained the origins and differences.

Mrs. Paul Drouin was hostess for the evening and Mrs. Eugene Frankhouser presided. As program chairman, Mrs. Dale Steele introduced the speakers.

Members were reminded of the reservations deadline for the annual Valentine Ball of Beta Sigma Phi chapters on Feb. 9 at the Elks Lodge Hall. Xi Omicron Taus will honor their chapter "queen" at an after the ball breakfast to be hosted by Mrs. Drouin, last year's queen.

Next chapter meeting is slated for Feb. 5 in the home of Mrs. Jim Robb, 501 N. Poppy St.

Kiwanis Annes and husbands enjoy social

A before dinner social was the cocktail hour hosted by the LeRoy Beggs in their home Jan. 26 on occasion of the installation night for Kiwanis Annes. Husbands were special guests.

Dinner and the installation ceremony took place at the Royal Coach. Accepting officer duties for the year were: Maxine (Mrs. John E.) Smith, president; Patricia (Mrs. Robert) McCauley, vice president; Mary (Mrs. Ed. G.) Lewis, secretary; Nannie (Mrs. Smiley) Wilkins, treasurer.

As retiring president, Dorothy (Mrs. Richard) Osmundson, was honored by the ladies with a lifetime membership to the club, and presented with a past president's pin. A gift of appreciation for her year of service was a crystal salad bowl with silver trim, and a service set.

Other past presidents attending the social affair were Mrs. Begg and Mrs. Fred Smith. Mrs. Begg was charter president when the club was organized in 1961.

Next club meeting is slated for Feb. 12.

YMCA offers fun and instruction for local youth

Lompoc YMCA is offering the second 10 week session of gymnastics in Vandenberg Village for boys and girls 6 years through high school age. Donna Moser, an experienced gymnast from the San Jose area, will be the instructor. Classes began Jan. 29 and will continue each Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 for beginners and 4:30 for intermediate gymnasts. Additional information may be had by calling the Y at 6-9622 or stopping at the Y, 222 North I Street.

Early-day Girl Scouts invited to annual "Thinking Day" event

Early -day Girl Scout members and leaders are subjects of a search by present-day leaders, planning for the annual "Thinking Day" celebration Feb. 23. By tradition, an international theme is followed.

Particularly because 1974 is Lompoc's Centennial Year, Mrs. Mariano Barajas, program chairman, wishes to find former Girl Scouts to participate. Hopefully, some may still have their uniforms to wear or display.

Former Girl Scouts are asked to contact Mrs. Barajas at 736-1503 or Mrs. Ervin Toler, Lompoc Girl Scouts publicity chairman, 736-7697.

Currently there are 12 Girl Scout troops in Lompoc, four each in Mission Hills and Vandenberg Village, four in Solvang. All are expected to take part in the "Thinking Day" program, presenting skits, songs or games of other lands. Colorful costumes will add to the interest.

Local history of Girl Scouts dates to December 1957 with Girl Scout Troop 1 and Brownie Troop 2 at Vandenberg AFB. Organization came about through interest of Mrs. Floyd Saunders whose husband was sent to VAFB in March '57. Their daughters had belonged to troops in former locales and Mrs. Saunders had been active as a leader. With Jean Wall as assistant, Girl Scouts got under way in the Lompoc area. Meetings were held in the Saunders home until a Scout House was provided on base. Until the troops were taken into the Santa Barbara Scout Council, they retained their numbers of 1 and 2.

The girls marched during their first year in the Flower Festival parade and won a trophy as best marching unit.

Expanding to additional troops in Lompoc and Vandenberg, training leaders prepared adult women to work with troops in the official program. First training leader was Alice (Mrs. Leonard) Fitzgerald, 512 N. Poppy. Other early trainers included Dorothy (Mrs. James) Croker, Jalama Road; Connie (Mrs. Jack) Savage, 3446 Via Cortez, Mission Hills; Dorothy House and Judy Boling.

News briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Fairbanks have returned from a two week vacation. Going first to Needles "to find some warm weather," they didn't. In a second week try, they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Flora at Yuma, Ariz.

Donation of 31 mitts and four laprobes to Palo Alto Veterans Hospital is the latest accomplishment of the sewing group from Ladies Auxiliary of WW I Veterans. The work was completed at a sewing meeting in the home of Mrs. William Zvolanek. Mrs. Dwelle Truesdale, project chairman, saw to the transportation.

February luncheon of the Auxiliary will be held next Wednesday in Veterans Memorial Hall. Plans will be discussed for the spring bazaar. Preparing the tables will be Eleanor Howell, president; Billie Hall, vice president. The former is recovering from a sprained ankle, result of a fall while visiting in her daughter's home.

Open to the public as well as the congregation is the bake sale to be held at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, 209 E. Central Ave. this Sunday. Ladies of the church are asked to contribute their favorite baked goods. Mrs. Gary Dunlap, chairman, announces the sale to begin at 11:15 a.m., immediately following morning services. Proceeds will go toward expenses incurred in preparing for the annual fall bazaar.

Investiture and re-dedication ceremonies will be conducted by Girl Scout Jr. Troop 146 tonight at 7:30 in Bethany Lutheran Church, 135 South E Street. Mrs. Norman Blakeboro is the troop leader.

Just so you won't think the Flannery convention is perfect we will show a hand where it backfired against its users.

South had no interest in a slam after his partner opened with a Flannery two diamond call, but he wanted to be in a notrump game and got there by the direct method of bidding it.

East wanted a heart lead and was able to call for it by doubling. In general when you double a freely bid notrump game you are asking your partner to lead dummy's best suit and the Flannery two diamonds established hearts as that suit.

South did the best he could after West opened the 10 of hearts. He ducked in dummy in hope that the lead was a singleton, but West was able to lead a second heart. South played dummy's nine. East won with the jack and led the king to knock out dummy's ace.

East was interested in just one thing. He wanted to make sure of three heart tricks in addition to his two aces and this play made sure of them.

Ordinary bidding would probably find North playing three notrump. East would lead a heart but unless he were a seventh son of a seventh son he would not think of leading low and North would romp home with game and rubber.

"Love" is the subject of the lesson-sermon at Christian Science church Services Sunday. The Scriptural text setting the theme for the service is from Psalm 36:7. The services at First Church of Christ Scientist, 210 South H Street, begin at 11 a.m. and the public is welcome.

First Baptist

"It's Contract Renewal Time" is the sermon title of the Rev. John O. Eby this Sunday at First Baptist Church, 220 W. Cypress Ave. I Corinthians 11: 17-34 is the source. Services are at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.

From I Thess. 5-16 comes his evening sermon titled "How to Have a Happy . . . Everything."

St. Mary's Episcopal

A Contemporary celebration of Holy Communion will be held at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, 209 E. Central Ave., at 10 a.m. Sunday.

It will be led by the Senior Episcopal Young Churchmen and will include contemporary songs, readings and guitars.

A traditional Second Service celebration will be held at 8 a.m.

The Junior EYC will meet at 4 p.m. at the church. The material covered in youth Confirmation class will be the study section for the next three months.

The Senior EYC will meet at 7 p.m. in the home of the advisors, Dave and Ann Hope, 139 Deneb.

Midweek celebrations of Holy Communion with Laying on of Hands are held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and 9 a.m. Thursday. The Life in the Spirit Seminar begins Tuesday with the 7:30 p.m. Service.

Other classes and groups continue to meet as announced.

The Vestry will meet at 5 p.m. Thursday.

First Presbyterian

The Sunday morning service of worship at the First Presbyterian Church is at 9:30 a.m. The Rev. Kenneth R. Boyd will lead the service and preach, beginning a series on "Encounters With God." Church School is also at 9:30 a.m. Adult classes follow worship, concluding at 11. Nursery care is available. Sr. High Fellowship meets Sunday at 7 p.m., Bible study groups meet Tuesday at 10 a.m. and Thursday at 6:30 p.m. United Presbyterian Women will have their monthly luncheon meeting Thursday noon.

Methodist Church

"A Bachelor Speaks About Love" is the sermon title chosen by the Rev. W. Murray Gibbons for Sunday morning worship at First United Methodist Church, 925 North F Street. The service begins at 10:30 a.m.

At 9:15 church school is offered for all ages. Two adult classes are available

Nostalgia theme comes back to Cabrillo as 1974 drama season opens with "Bye-Bye Birdie"

Can rock and roll idol Conrad Birdie find happiness in the United States Army despite the streaming tears of millions of girls all over the world? Conrad's future and that of all the world will be decided on January 31st, February 1, 2, 8, and 9 when the Cabrillo High School Drama Department opens with the musical extravaganza, Bye Bye Birdie at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre. Tickets for this production sell for $1.50 general admission and $1 for students with an A.S.B. card.

Albert Petersen, a dashing theatrical agent, played by Bob Erbe is on the verge of bankruptcy when he learns of the horrible news that his only claim to fame and fortune, Conrad Birdie, played by Michael Bradshaw is drafted into the service. Albert's romantic life is also on the rocks when his faithful secretary, Rosie Alvarez, portrayed by veteran actress Jo Michel, informs him of her leaving him. To save both his finances and romance, Albert together with Rosie plot a scheme to draw public attention to Conrad's last day as a civilian. They call on Kim McAfee, played by Carol Coselman, president of the Sweet Apple Ohio Fan Club, to be awarded the opportunity to be the last to kiss Conrad before he joins the ranks of the chosen.

This news excites Kim eagerly but brings about alarm from her mother and father, played by Robert O'Hare and Susan Morris as well as outraged jealousy from her boyfriend Hugo who is really Mike Hoffman. Kim has lots of friends who rejoice at the news played by, Bobbi Dunne, Debbie Johnson, Jamie Williams, Sue Garnett, Dionne Burrell, Theresa Burrell, Kim Van Goey, Amy Gilliam, Susan Allen, Cindy Erbe, Liz Hash, Doug Glover and Willie Linn. There are those who question this ecstasy, including the mayor and his wife played by Gene Christmas and Debbie Aldridge, as well as Mrs. Merkle played by Heidi Bland despite the enthusiasm of her daughter Ursula, played by Becky Jaramillo.

As an added bonus to Albert's problems, there's his possessive mother, Mrs. Peterson, played by Donna Coselman, who discourages Albert from getting attached to anyone but herself.

Harvey Johnson, played by Marc Chambers, idolizes his hero Conrad playing the guitar with him with the help of Al Cement.

Also featured in the cast is Lessing Iverson, son of Mr. and Joe Iverson, featured in the role of Randolph.

Several faculty members are presented in cameo roles in the production including: Mr. Bob Boyer, Mr. Les Atchley, Mr. Joe Iverson, Mr. Bob Lawrence, Mr. Steve Haskins, and Mr. Steve Ward appearing as able Shriners.

Mr. Jay Baumgardner, instructor at Maple Continuation School, is also appearing in the role of the bartender plus other cameo appearances. Mr. Baumgardner also is coordinating the production, and construction for the production. Mrs. Leslie Taggart, already famed for her award winning films produced on this campus, choreographs the big dance numbers. Mr. Joe Iverson supervises the construction. Mr. Wyatt Haupt, directs the play and conducts the orchestra.

The show will feature the talents of Cabrillo High School musicians including: Theresa Kereakes, Guy Truett, Rick Veder, Ken Bosley, Fred Dudnev, Lennia Collins, Christy Fuller, Tony Bubba, Marc Gartrell, Rick Foster and on drums, Mr. James F. Williamson.

Can the world survive without the charisma of their Conrad Birdie?

Perhaps the question will be answered when the show plays for all to see Thurs. Jan. 31, Friday Feb. 1, Sat. Feb. 2, Friday Feb. 8, and Sat. Feb. 9. The box office opens promptly at 7:30 p.m. each evening.

Any one who writes poetry, draws or takes pictures can submit them to the Cabrillo Image. There is a box in the attendance office where you can put your work.

Caramel apples

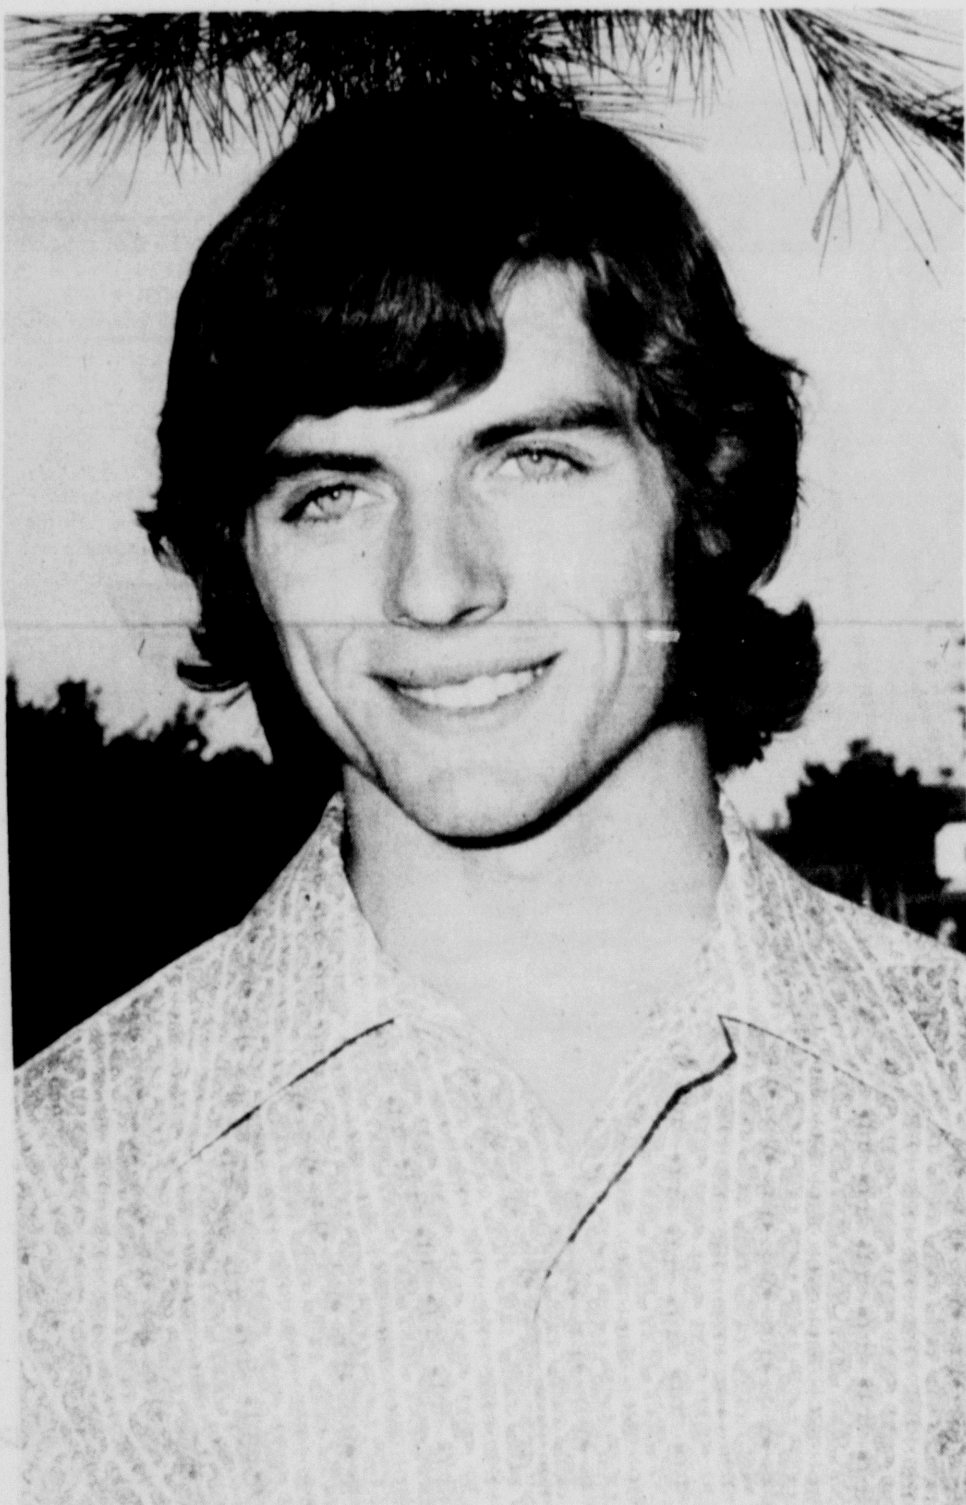

The Cabrillo Pep Club is having a caramel apple sale, Wednesday February 6. It will be held at lunch time on the patio. Prices are 25 cents for non-members, and 15 cents for students with a Pep Club membership card and school I.D.

Hand-ball

The first annual Cabrillo hand-ball tournament is scheduled to start February 6 at the Cabrillo hand-ball courts. All students are welcome to come watch during lunch and before school.

Sadie Hawkins

Attention all Cabrillo Girls: Sadie Hawkins week is almost upon you. The dance this year promises to be one of the best in Cabrillo's history. Pick out a guy and get ready to ask him, because if you don't, you'll have missed the greatest activity ever sponsored by the outstanding class of '75!

MURRAY KING is a senior at Cabrillo High, and is graduating a year early. He is the president and vice-president of several different clubs, which keeps him very busy.

Murray King: early graduate and active student leader

In order to graduate early most students have to study all day and most of the night, which leaves them no free time for school activities. Murray King, an early graduate, manages to keep a 4.0 grade point average and still be active in several school clubs.

Murray is president of three clubs—the Ecology club, Ski club and Inner-club Council. He is vice-president of CSF and the Chemistry Club and a member of the Key Club. Murray is also on the executive board of the Student Council.

As a freshman, Murray joined waterpolo and worked in the Forest Service on the YCC program during the summer.

In his second year at Cabrillo, Murray served on the ecology committee and helped start the Ecology Club. He played varsity tennis and was one of the students who formed the Ski Club. He was also a member of the Key Club.

In school this year, Murray is taking physics, adv. algebra and trig., media systems, American gov't, photo I, grammar II and speech II. He says his government teacher Mr. James Gurrard is "a lot of work."

Murray has lived in Lompoc for 12 years. He considers Cabrillo a good school and has really enjoyed his three years here.

Students need a good reason to graduate early and Murray has several. "I wouldn't get anything out of my senior year—it would be just a goof-off year." He feels he is ready for college.

After he graduates, Murray has tentative plans for going to Oregon State, possibly on the ROTC program. He wants to major in business so he can start his own store: "a ski shop maybe or a backpacking store."

The stores he would like to open are typical of the things Murray likes. Backpacking in Las Padres or the Sierras is one of his favorite pasttimes. Skiing and tennis are also high on his list. He usually skis up at Badger Pass or China Peak. Murray plays first doubles on varsity tennis.

Murray is the son of Mr. George F. King and Mrs. Lorraine King. His father is a counselor at Cabrillo and his mother teaches kindergarten at Buena Vista. They live at 102 Deneb Place in Vandenberg Village.

Terrie Spaninger: active each 24 hours

TERRIE SPANNINGER, a senior at Lompoc High, finds her activities to be very time consuming. Along school, hobbies, and looking for a job, Terrie has little time to do nothing.

It never occurs to many people but the students that do not have a list of activities a mile long are just as active as those that do. Terrie Spaninger is one of these students.

Terrie was a member of Pep Club in her freshman year. Books and homework took up a lot of Terrie's time as she was on the honor roll and principal's list. She was also a member of the California Scholarship Federation.

As a sophomore Terrie used her talents in drill team. Again she was on the honor roll, principal's list and in CSF. "I really had fun and it seemed like I always had something to do," stated Terrie. "It just doesn't seem like it when you talk about it."

Last year Terrie was again on drill team serving as co-captain. She was a member of the twelve-girl team that went to solo competition and took first place.

She served on the Student Accreditation Committee, a committee formed every five years to evaluate the school. Many busy hours were spent tabulating and recording information. She participated in a student exchange program in conjunction with student government. Terrie along with other students from Lompoc High went to Santa Maria for a three-day stay. While there they met some of the students, visited classes, and spoke with faculty members to help students know more about their surrounding school systems.

Terrie displayed athletic skills by becoming a member of the girl's swim team. She lettered in her specialty; the freestyle.

This year Terrie is a member of CSF which qualifies her for the degree of life member. She will be participating on the girls' swim team again this year although diving will be Terrie's main concentration this year.

In her spare time, Terrie manages to find time to make terrariums, which is an art easily mastered. Using a long instrument that resembles something that might be used on a car, Terrie digs holes, puts in sticks and places plants in five gallon water bottles. Staining glass is another of Terrie's hobbies. Rebel, Terrie's pet boxer dog, is another time consuming activity. She took him through obedience school.

Although Terrie doesn't admit to being very good, she plays the guitar.

Upon graduation Terrie plans to attend Cal Poly in San Luis Obispo. She will major in Home Economics with no set career in mind.

Terrie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sauvadon of 321 North "Z" Street.

Finally going along with daylight saving time

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — In 1967, when Texas first went on Daylight Saving Time, Hilary Doran couldn't turn his watch forward an hour because the stem was corroded.

Since then Doran, a state legislator from Del Rio, has made an issue out of Daylight Saving Time by refusing to go along with the rest of the country. For six months out of every year Doran lives one hour behind America.

But now Doran says he'll go along with year 'round Daylight Saving Time for the sake of his country.

"If President Nixon will refrain from running all over the country to his homes, I will make my sacrifice to the energy crisis and change my watch," Doran said.

But Doran, who each year tries to convince the legislature to exempt Texas from the biennial ceremony of watch turning, said he doubts if year 'round Daylight Saving Time is going to save that much energy.

"I think we could do a lot more," he said. "I just think it's going to cause more hardship and money expended than it will save."

For instance, Doran says much of the motorized street cleaning equipment that scurries through cities before the morning rush hour are not equipped with lights to see in the darkened mornings of Daylight Saving Time.

"About the only good thing about going on Daylight Saving Time year 'round is that it won't affect people so much when you change," he said.

"I'm contemplating that I will probably go along with the rest of the nation this time, just my little part in helping out in the crisis.

"This time I'll go along, although I don't see any good it'll do."

Police join forces to solve murders

OAKLAND — (UPI) — Oakland and San Francisco detectives joined forces today in trying to solve the slayings of three persons in a funeral home and the street assassinations of four others.

"Yes, we're comparing notes," a San Francisco homicide inspector said Thursday night as detectives in Oakland sought clues in the hacking deaths of an elderly couple and an apprentice embalmer at the Albert Brown Mortuary.

Five persons were cut down by bullets Monday night in random attacks in San Francisco within two hours. Four died and the fifth victim suffered serious wounds.

In a related development, KGO television in San Francisco received a letter from the Symbionese Liberation Army, taking credit for the attacks there and demanding the release of two murder suspects.

The message, made of letters cut out of newspapers and pasted on a piece of paper, contained four Municipal Railway transfers, and police said Monday night's slayings all occurred near bus stops. Police technicians were given the letter for examination.

The slayings here and in San Francisco touched off a wave of fear in the Bay Area. San Francisco Police Lt. Bill O'Connor warned citizens not to venture onto the streets after dark—particularly not alone.

A $5,000 reward was offered by the San Francisco Examiner for information leading to killers there. Police said they believed two men were the hit-run killers. Both were described as black. All the victims were white.

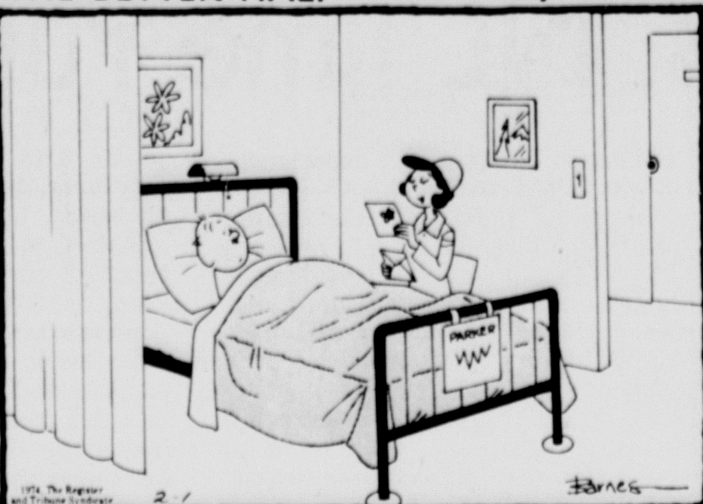

A caretaker found the bodies of Clarence Bryant and his wife, Doris, and Michael Moore, 27, at the mortuary. Deputy Police Chief Tom Donohue said the three had been hacked and stabbed. They apparently fought and tried to flee their assailants, he said.

Donohue said the killers took embalming fluid from the mortuary but nothing else. One bottle, he said, was dropped in a driveway and another about a block away.

Police from Southern California talked with detectives here in an effort to solve murders in their cities. Although detectives refused to comment, there were recurring reports that a clandestine sect was operating in the state. Sources said killing was part of the initiation rite.

The Symbionese Liberation Army said in letters to the media that it was responsible for the slaying of Oakland School Superintendent Marcus A. Foster last November.

THE BETTER HALF By Barnes

State lottery bill faces bleak future

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A proposal for a $178 million-a-year lottery to boost state revenues today faced bleak odds in the Senate, which has buried similar proposals.

The proposed constitutional amendment (ACA18) by Assemblyman Leon Ralph, D-Los Angeles, narrowly cleared the Assembly Thursday by the bare margin required, 54-26. It was believed the first time the Assembly has passed a lottery proposal.

Opponents declared the legislation would put the state in the business of "swindling its citizens" and lead impoverished parents to gamble away money for their children's lunches. Supporters said a lottery was "painless" taxation.

Shortly after the proposal passed, Gov. Ronald Reagan joined the chorus of negative voices. He called it "another tax increase" and declared the state should not raise funds from people's "weakness."

The Ralph proposal, if approved by voters, would authorize the legislature to establish a lottery if the gambling operation is conducted by the state and its profits are used "for the public benefit."

Ralph said Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post estimated that such a lottery could raise about $177.5 million annually. Assemblyman Raymond R. Seeley, R-Bythe, declared a "lottery is the most painless source of taxation there is."

Ralph labelled as "nonsense" arguments a lottery would hurt the poor.

"As one who represents the poor, don't love us to death, baby," he said angrily. Ralph's district includes low income black areas in Los Angeles.

Assemblyman Alister McAlister, D-San Jose, said the state would receive only 45 per cent of the total proceeds from the lottery.

Committee claims can subpoena

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Judiciary Committee asserts that it has all the power it needs to subpoena any information it wants for its impeachment inquiry—even to the point of compelling President Nixon to testify.

The committee took that hard line Thursday. With no show of rancor, it unanimously adopted a three-page resolution on its powers which will go before the House for ratification next week.

The resolution states that the Constitution empowers the committee to compel "the attendance and testimony of any person."

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., told reporters that refusal by Nixon to comply with a subpoena could be "grounds for impeachment."

It is considered far more likely the committee will subpoena documents and tapes from Nixon than seek his testimony. But it is also likely it will submit interrogatories—written questions seeking sworn answers.

Edward Hutchinson of Michigan, senior Republican on the committee, said he expected Nixon to comply with any "relevant" requests but added that he has had no contact whatever with the White House.

Rodino said the committee even has the power to subpoena Watergate evidence from Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski, who has expressed doubt that he can or will turn grand jury evidence over to anyone.

Republicans moved to impose an April 30 deadline for a decision on whether grounds exist for impeaching Nixon. They were defeated, 23-14, but will try again on the House floor.

Oil official: negligence sabotaged talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Negligence by U.S. diplomats sabotaged critical 1971 negotiations between the oil industry and Middle East exporting countries, according to a key oil executive.

The actions showed the export countries that the oil companies had no substantial government support and enabled them to build up the negotiating leverage or "momentum" for price increases of 400 to 1,100 per cent, said G.H. Schuler, vice president of Bunker-Hunt Oil Co., in testimony Thursday before a Senate subcommittee.

Unless the importing countries now achieve enough solidarity to reverse the process, it could lead to an economic and political disaster that might create the conditions for war, Schuler said.

Schuler blamed former Undersecretary of State John N. Irwin and Douglas MacArthur Jr., former U.S. ambassador to Iran, for what he saw as the critical foul-up in mid-January, 1971.

He said they sided with the exporting countries' efforts to break up a united front among the companies—a front which had been authorized by the administration specifically to prevent them from being whipsawed into price concessions.

Barry bombs Warriors to narrow win

United Press International
Rick Barry is personally seeing to it that the Golden State Warriors make the NBA playoffs like everybody said they should in preseason.

The Warriors, who have trailed the Los Angeles Lakers in the NBA Pacific Division all season long despite being preseason favorites, won their third straight game on the road Thursday night, squeezing past the Houston Rockets, 109-108.

It was also the third straight game that Barry spearheaded the way with the big points.

As the final seconds ticked off the clock at Houston, Barry sank a 28-foot jump shot that enabled the Warriors to clinch the win and ease to within one game of the division-leading Lakers.

Barry scored 30 points in the Warriors victory in Buffalo on Tuesday, 40 more in Atlanta on Wednesday (also won by the Warriors) and added 38 Thursday night to his week's total. Prior to Barry's clutch basket, Calvin Murphy had put Houston ahead 108-107 with just two seconds left.

The lead changed hands seven times in the last 2:53 of the game.

In the only other NBA game Thursday, Phoenix trimmed Portland, 112-100.

Phoenix used a balanced scoring attack to combat a 38-point performance from Portland's Sidney Wicks. Charlie Scott, with 25, was joined in double figures by teammates Neal Walk (22), Keith Erickson (19) and Dick Van Arsdale (18) as the Suns increased their lead over cellar-dwelling Portland in the Pacific Division to 1½ games.

Pads' owner opens wallet

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The San Diego Padres begin spending millionaire owner Ray Kroc's money today—and the first man in line is slugger Willie McCovey, the club's big winter acquisition.

Kroc bought the Padres from financially troubled C. Arnholt Smith for $10 million cash a week ago and on Thursday, he received the National League's official blessings in Scottsdale, Ariz..

Buzzie Bavasi, Padres' president, was given the green light by Kroc to do his best—money notwithstanding—to give San Diego the best possible team, starting with the 1974 season.

Armed with Kroc's money, Bavasi scheduled a news conference for today to announce he has signed McCovey, who has 413 career homers, to a $150,000 contract. That's about $15,000 more than McCovey earned last year while hitting 29 homers and driving in 75 runs in only 130 games for the San Francisco Giants.

No question, the Padres figure McCovey is the man who can help them out of the NL cellar, where they have always finished since joining the league as an expansion club in 1969. They also will be counting on such other expensive wintertime acquisitions as Bobby Tolan and Glenn Beckert.

When Kroc, whose worth is estimated over $400 million, bought the Padres he put Bavasi on notice he wanted a solid contender within two years and he also told him money was no object.

"Talent is always difficult to find," Kroc said. "You can always get money."

But money, from the first day the Padres were organized, has been a problem. The lack of it that is. In previous years Bavasi had to scratch to make the payroll and last season was pressed into selling Fred Norman, a pretty fair lefthanded pitcher, for $90,000 so he could have enough money to give to the club's top draft choice.

Little League

Registration for Village-Hills Little League baseball begins Saturday, at the Little League ball park on Sirius Ave., adjacent to the Cabrillo High baseball diamond in Vandenberg Village.

Registration time Saturday, and on Feb. 9, will be 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Boys may also register each day next week from 7 to 9 p.m. at the same location.

To be eligible, a boy must be 8 through 15 years old, furnish proof of birthdate, and be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian. Customary donation, according to the league officials, is $5 per boy or $10 per family. For more information call Jim Forren at 733-1143.

Conqs host Braves: NL time running out

By SCOTT OSTLER
The Lompoc Braves and Cabrillo Conqs may not have much going for them this year, victory-wise, but at least they've got each other.

When all else fails, you can always count on a good old Cabrillo-Lompoc game to revive a little enthusiasm among the players and especially the fans.

The Valley rivals meet tonight on the Hill at 8 p.m. to put a caper on the first round of Northern League play. Both teams are 1-3 in league. Tonight's winner will be able to talk about the possibilities of a second place finish and a CIF berth, while the loser will probably start using terms like "building year."

As in just about any Cabrillo-Lompoc game in any sport, it's tough to pick a favorite. Lompoc is 4-14 on the season, Cabrillo 5-12. The Braves have probably played a slightly tougher schedule.

Both teams have had their share of embarrassing moments, Lompoc losing by 20 points or more seven times and Cabrillo five times. But stats like that won't mean much at tipoff time tonight.

Cabrillo Coach Harry Santos sees the game as a test of Lompoc Coach Dave Ellison's character and sense of fair play.

"I told Dave not to lose sight of the fact that it's my turn to win," Santos said earlier today, referring to the fact that the Braves won both intra-city battles last year, Santos' rookie season on the Hill.

But Ellison wants no part of the equal-time doctrine. "Our kids are confident they can beat Cabrillo," he revealed.

In order to justify their confidence in themselves, the Braves will have to counteract Cabrillo's quickness and bench strength with experience, of which they have not a lot.

In fact most of the game participants would have to produce ID when buying a soft drink. Lompoc will start a freshman and two sophomores. Cabrillo will most likely open with a senior, a sophomore, and a bunch of juniors, none with varsity experience prior to this season.

Lompoc will start 6-2 senior Rick Fridrich (13.5 ppg in league) and 6-3 freshman Ed Taylor (4.0) at forwards, 6-3 sophomore Ken Humbert (8.0) at center, and 6-1 senior Marv Henson (10.0) and 5-10 sophomore Chuck Van Allen (5.0) at guards.

Cabrillo starters are 5-6 sophomore guard Mandy Simmons (17.3), 6-5 senior center Chuck Younglove (5.3) and 5-9 junior forward Darryl Stinnett (11.8). Either 6-0 junior Kelly Hubbard (3.7) or 6-1 junior Dan Ellertson will man the other forward spot, and the other guard spot will go to 5-10 junior Kirk Dalton (8.9) if he is recovered from muscle spasms in his back.

Santos, as always, will go to his bench often and early. Ellison will likely do far less substituting.

Henson and Fridrich will be the old men on the court. "Our game plan," said Santos, "is based on the fact that Marvin and Rick will play their game. We'll try to put pressure on their young kids. If we can neutralize their other three starters, we put the whole load on Fridrich and Henson."

Jones' last one

Evert Jones will be closing out his career as Cabrillo athletic director at tonight's basketball game.

Jones, who has also coached the varsity football team for each of Cabrillo's nine seasons, has accepted an assistant football coaching post at the University of Utah and will be leaving the Valley within the next few days.

Ellison hopes his troops can put the lid on Simmons and Stinnett, the main Cabrillo offensive threats. (Stinnett is also the leading Conq rebounder).

The Conqs will press the Braves all over the court, hoping to take advantage of Lompoc's ball handling deficiencies.

The Braves will try to keep the game at a more pedestrian pace, get the ball to Fridrich, and hit the boards.

Lompoc keeps lead, Conqs roll

Valley wrestlers set pace

The Lompoc wrestling Braves sailed to a 37-15 win over the Saints in Santa Maria last night to prod their league mark up to 9-0 on the eve of Wednesday's Lompoc-Cabrillo showdown.

Frank "Brother" Hain and Roy Patterson came through with Tribe pins at 98 pounds and heavyweight to bookend the contest in which the Saints could win but three matches.

Also victorious, Cabrillo kept pace in second place in the Northern League with a mark of 7-2 going into the loop's last dual meet. In other league action, Arroyo Grande dumped Righetti 43-24 to ascend to a 4-5 mark and third place. San Luis lost to the Conqs and is now 4-5 and in fourth. The Saints are 3-6 in fifth place and Righetti is 0-9 on the year.

The Braves last night had varsity starters Rick Rider and Dave and Andy Huyck out with illness. Coach Jerry Hamstad believes they'll be back for the Cabrillo contest and, he says, he certainly hopes so.

Williard "Tuffy" Grossi's earlier-injured right elbow was in good enough shape last night to allow a 5-0 decision over Manuel Percigo in the 133-pound bout.

Miracles excluded, though there have been some in other years, Hamstad puts this year's league title between the two Valley mat clubs.

In JV action last night, Lompocans garnered a 39-14 win on pins from Rick Walker and Tim Boatwright and decisions from Jim Valencia, John Rupa, Art Magdalan and Jim Vaughan.

The Blue frosh tied the Santa Marians 29-29 in spite of decisions from Darryl Grossini, Cary Small, Mark Fabing, Mike Eden and Dave Holmes.

Wednesday's crosstown clash will take place in the Lompoc gym at 7:30 p.m.

Cabrillo matmen unloaded a broadside of five pins on the Tigers in San Luis Obispo last night to succeed by 39-22 in a spirited contest in which the Conqs never trailed.

Terrible George Hervey opened with a fall over Jeff Wendt in the 98-pound opener and stringy 112-pound Kris Andrews quickly added another over Joe Severn. They were winning points. The home squad didn't win a match until they trailed 21-0 and sophomore ace Scott Heaton downed Kurt Larson 8-2.

Tough Tiger Mike Martin turned a 13-2 advantage into a 145-pound fall over Mark Hall, and Steve Hitchcock laquered Conq Bill Jason to the mat in the first period of their 165-pound bout to pile up San Luis team points.

But Rick Beers (154), Bruce

Probst (175) and Scott Ryan (191) retaliated with a trio of heavyweight pins over Mike Wilson, Bill Cannon and Lyle Brooks to buoy the Conqs' margin.

Now at 7-2, Cabrillo is in second place in the Northern Wrestling League, two dual meets (league points) behind undefeated Lompoc (9-0). The Hillmen will invade the downtown pavilion Wednesday night for the crosstown wrestling clash, the last dual meet before the league tournament.

The Cabrillans took a 51-16 JV contest as well last night on pins from Al Probst, Chris Cox and Jim Kale and decisions from Bob Hicks, Joe Williams and Dave Mosby.

The Gold frosh slapped a 44-14 defeat on San Luis on pins from Keith Duggan, Mark Larson and Chris Hall.

A scare for the Irish

United Press International
Just when Notre Dame coach Digger Phelps thought his team was on the road to recovery from last weekend's loss to UCLA, he's faced with another setback.

No, Subway Alumni, the Irish didn't lose Thursday night. In fact they won quite easily, 101-72, over DePaul. But an ominous note to the victory was the mysterious "illness" to befall Phelps' prize freshman recruit, Adrian Dantley, late in the game.

Dantley, one of the most heavily recruited players in the country last spring, collapsed on the Irish bench during a time-out with about three minutes to play. He was then taken by ambulance to the school infirmary in a "semiconscious condition," according to an Irish spokesman.

"But," the spokesman added later, "he was checked out thoroughly by doctors there and we don't believe it's anything serious."

After leading by only three at halftime, Notre Dame pulled away from DePaul after the intermission as Gary Brokaw (25 points in all) and Dantley (23) led the way. The win upped the third ranked Irish's record to 13-1.

Kuhn voids secret deal

NEW YORK (UPI) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn finally has moved into the Charlie Finley-Dick Williams' snag, to a limited degree, anyway, by voiding a side agreement which called for the New York Yankees to pay all Williams' legal fees had he been sued by Finley.

Kuhn took his action, the UPI learned Wednesday, after he discovered the Yankees had entered into a secret agreement with Williams. The information originally came to light during a formal hearing conducted in Boston late last month by Joe Cronin, then the American League president.

Victor's record now 49,998-0-2

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Victor, a 457-pound black bear that hasn't been beaten in his 50,000 wrestling matches against humans, nearly met his match Thursday night.

A professional football player squared off against the burly bear and fared surprisingly well, wrestling the bruin to a draw. Many observers felt that man had beaten bear.

The football player, Cincinnati Bengals' linebacker Jim LeClair, was never downed by the bear and even managed to get the bear on its back.

Victor's manager, Tuffy Truesdell, said it was only the second time in the bear's estimated 50,000 matches that he had been wrestled to a draw.

It was a strange matchup—staged as a special attraction of a sports and travel show at Convention Center here—and a strange sight to see a man and an animal pitted against each other.

In the early going the 6-3, 230-pound LeClair locked arm and arm in a match of strength with the burly bear, who stood on his hind feet and reared to a height of 6-feet-4.

Suddenly LeClair caught the bear off balance, lunged forward and pushed the bear on its back. LeClair quickly jumped atop the bear and tried to pin its shoulders, but after about 30 seconds of fruitless efforts decided he didn't have enough strength left. The match was ended and declared a draw.

"He's so heavy," an exhausted LeClair panted after the bout. "It really wasn't so strange locking arms with a bear—it was so hard having all that weight leaning on me all the time."

"I'm exhausted," he added, "but I was never hurt."

The bear wore a muzzle and had his claws clipped.

"I think Jim got the best of it," said LeClair's wife Betty, who calmly sat through the match.

Women's golf

The Village Country Club Women's Golf Association competition this week was Medallion Day. Viv Irvine and Jeannette Kendall tied for the lead and will play off next Tuesday. Low putts went to Mabel McClendon and Ginny Sphar.

In first flight, Marge Jensen and Mabel McClendon tied for the win, R'Neta Fritz took third, and there was a three-way tie for fourth among Norma Stillman, Ginny Sphar and Pris Heflin.

Viv Irvine and Jeannette Kendall tied for first in second flight, with Edie Henricks third. Marge Hearne, Helen Coonan and Dottie Adamson finished 1-2-3 in third flight.

Yesterday was guest day, with low net best-ball-partners competition. Mildred Morgan and Martha Venetti teamed for first, Fran Dyste and Jae Bradshaw second, Fran Hendricks and Lorraine Dutra third, Loretta Davenport and Inez Geoffrey fourth, and Amy Mullaney and Doris Rumsey fifth.

Conq swimmers open with league victory

The Cabrillo swimming Conquistadores opened their Northern League dual meet season in style yesterday, whipping the San Luis Obispo Tigers 102-69 in the San Luis pool.

Scott Wassmund and John Mathre each turned in triple-win days to lead the Conq blitz. Bob Boyer, Cabrillo coach, was also pleased with the performances of Phil Heidmous and Ron Stokes.

Wassmund picked up individual wins in the 50-yard freestyle and the 100-yard butterfly; and tacked on a leg of the winning 200-yard medley relay team. Mathre took the 200 individual medley and the 500 freestyle, and anchored the winning 400 freestyle relay team.

The Conqs travel to Arroyo Grande next Thursday for another NL dual meet.

In a new rule change, the top five swimmers in each race score points, rather than just the top three as in the past. The new system is 6-4-3-2-1-0, replacing the old 5-3-1. Relays are now 8-4-2, whereas only one team scored under the old system.

ANAHEIM (UPI) — Six more California Angels have signed contracts, bringing to 13 the number of players in the fold of the American League baseball club for 1974, it was announced Thursday.

Newest Angels under contract are outfielders Richie Scheinblum, Joe Lahoud and Mickey Rivers, catcher Ellie Rodriguez and pitchers Skip Lockwood and Eddie Figueroa.

Hancock 5th in JC rankings

Allan Hancock Bulldog cagers remained ranked 5th in the state in the California Junior College Association large college division, and fellow WSC rivals Compton, No. 2 and Santa Barbara, No. 11 also retained their same positions.

Something is bound to change after this weekend, however since the Bulldogs host Santa Barbara Friday night at 7:30 p.m. at the Hancock sports pavilion, and travel to Compton Saturday night.

Hancock's Mark Landsberger, St. Paul, Minn. freshman, continues his domination of the statistics retaining his conference scoring lead with 201 points—nearly 50 points above the number 2 man, Bobby Johnson of West L.A. Landsberger is the number 2 man in scoring in the CJCA with a 25.0 point average per game based on 20 games and 501 points, and stands third in rebounds with 297 for 20 games or a 15.0 average.

Top spikers meet tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — There is a strong international flavor in tonight's San Francisco Examiner Games at the Cow Palace and the best of a 34-event program could be the mile where Marty Liquori tries to beat South Africa's Fanie Van Zijl for the first time.

Liquori and Van Zijl were the best in their respective nations in 1972 but neither made it to the Olympics —Liquori because of an achilles tear and Van Zijl when South Africa was barred from the Munich Games on political grounds. But the two hooked up in Los Angeles on Jan. 19 in Van Zijl's first indoor race ever and the South African beat Liquori, top ranked in the world in 1969 and 1971, has done 3:54.6. The two are by no means the only standouts in the race here, only the best known at a mile.

Steve Prefontaine of Oregon, America's premier long distance runner, drops down a few pegs to take on Liquori and Van Zijl and is joined in the mile field by Hailu Ebba of Ethiopia, reigning American miler Len Hilton and former Chico State star Kim Ellison, a last minute entry expected to set a fast pace.

The mile isn't the only star attraction with world's fastest human Steve Williams running in the 440.

THINK
IT!

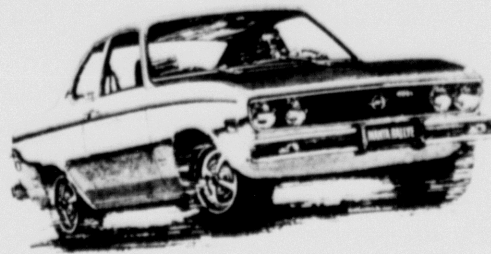

BY BOB LILLEY

Regardless of the energy crisis—the lowered speed limits are effectively reducing accident totals on the nation's highways. Less speed and correspondingly greater control makes driving a lot easier on the nervous system, too. It took a fuel crisis to get the country to adopt a simple solution to the increasing problems of highway accidents and general carnage. All we had to do—was slow down!

Lots of fun per mile, lots of miles per gallon

Manta combines a lot of Teutonic elegance with a touch of German huggerly. It has the ability to devour great sections of high speed Auto-bahn in a single outing but its appetite for gasoline is remarkably small. That may help explain why Opel is the best selling car in Germany. For more reasons, come in and see a Manta for yourself!

21 Business Opportunities

DON'T READ THIS AD

Unless you mean business ... We are now considering qualified applicants in your area to become a working part of our National "Hot Food" Distributor System. You are not applying for a job! You are applying for a very high profit business of your own. NO EXPERIENCE NECESSARY — NO SELLING INVOLVED. This business can be started part time — no need to quit your job. Can be expanded full time with company financing. We need people we can depend on. Our products are nationally famous "Hot Food" items. We have over 36 varieties of hot soups and hot entrees, such as beef stew, chicken and dumplings, chili & beans, and on and on. We have all of America's favorites. All these delicious products are sold from the latest in automatic vending equipment. Your route will be established and installed by us. Your age is not a factor, if you qualify. Perfect for a nice couple to operate as a family business.

OPINIONS

The columns of the Lompoc Record are open to all expressions of opinion consistent with good taste and the laws.

The Record's aim is to present facts in its news columns and opinions in its editorial columns.

State of the Union

President Nixon went before Congress this week and presented his annual State of the Union message extolling what he considered to be his accomplishments in the past five years and presenting broad outlines for the solution of a magnitude of problems ranging from personal privacy to peace on earth.

At face value, it would be difficult to find disagreement in the definition of problems as outlined by the President. Expressed disagreement would be akin to being against motherhood.

The problems are real. A new welfare program is a necessity. Crime on the streets is still prevalent. Personal privacy must be protected. Farm prosperity is necessary. Detente with Russia and China is desirable. Drug abuse must be contained. World peace is the ultimate goal. We must become self sufficient in energy. Recession must be avoided.

Along with all Americans, we would welcome solutions to all of these problems. But it is difficult to believe at this time that without a strong definition of the state of the presidency we can hope for much, if any, progress.

Certainly "one year of Watergate is enough." It is evident, however, that this tragic issue and its direct relationship to the President is not concluded. It is almost hopeless to believe that tensions over the issue are eased because he, the President, says it is enough. They will only be eased when this issue is brought to its conclusion through the full cooperation of the President himself with the judicial and congressional procedures.

Washington calling by Marquis Childs

Isolationism

WASHINGTON — Absorbed in our own troubles, we are slamming the door on the rest of the world or on that part of the world least able to survive the oil crisis. By a vote of 248 to 155, the House of Representatives killed the administration bill to fund the International Development Association (IDA), the World Bank's soft loan subsidiary.

IDA has been the recourse for sub-Saharan countries suffering a terrible drought. Up to 55 per cent of supportive loans for India, Pakistan and Bangladesh come from the bank's soft loan window. Without this support, and with a boost in oil prices up to 100 per cent, the outlook is not just for bankruptcy but for starvation and the breakdown of the social structure.

Immediate concern is over how the Senate can undo the action of the House. If it is not reversed, and the United States finally defaults on the contribution of $500 million, 33 per cent of the total, then the consortium of the industrialized nations put together in 18 months of effort by the World Bank collapses. It means IDA will be out of business on July 1.

Treasury officials who rushed up to Capitol Hill to try to get quick action on the reversal, urging that it precede the conference of oil consumers in Washington on February 11, came up against a stone wall. They discovered that the mood on the Senate side matched that of the House.

Key members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that must first pass on World Bank funds have long been skeptical of the administration's approach to foreign aid.

Chairman J. William Fulbright has opposed the bilateral aid programs ranging from $2.5 billion to $3 billion a year if only because such a large proportion goes for military assistance.

While there was never any doubt of its quick passage, some Senators feel that the $2.2 billion for Israel at the time of the Middle East war used up both good will and available surplus.

But as reflected in the Senate, the lopsided House votes signifies a sour attitude that can be described for lack of a better word as isolationist. In the House, 130 Republicans voted against the President and only 47 supported him. On the Democratic side, 109 voted for IDA, 118 against.

The underlying belief is that the United States, best able of all nations to ride out the oil crisis, can wall itself off from the poverty, disease and breakdown of the poor nations.

This is a perilous illusion as recent history illustrates. In 1930, Herbert Hoover, a President who for quite different reasons than those of today suffered a breakdown of authority, signed a tariff bill putting up a wall against goods from the rest of the world. That was a principal reason for the world-wide depression.

A world-wide depression is today no idle threat given the linkage between the rich and the poor through the Medium of oil and the skyrocketing prices levied by the oil sheikhs.

India, for example, is dependent on chemical fertilizers for food production, much of it coming from Japan. Yet with Japan's bill for imported oil, the raw material of fertilizer, doubling last year and likely to double again in 1974, exports to developing countries are being drastically cut.

This means a pinch not only in food but in new industries in smaller Asian nations dependent on Japanese imports for plastics, textiles and electronics in South Korea, Taiwan and Singapore. Far away places with strange sounding names as we once thought, we cannot quarantine away collapse in, say, India or Pakistan with the resulting famine, rioting and breakdown.

To reverse the House vote will take long and painstaking effort. Certainly, it cannot come overnight. Whether this administration can bring it about is an open question given the paralysis of will so evident.

Much of the effort will have to come from Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger who already has so much on his plate, and from Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz, reported about to resign.

We in this country are feeling the discomforts of the oil crisis and they may become hardships as it worsens. We have lived at a profligate level, six per cent of the world's population using more than 35 per cent of its resources.

But with internal reserves far beyond those of any other nation, this is little compared with the suffering of masses of people in large areas of the earth.

Ida Grove, Iowa

We received a letter this week signed merely "a former neighbor" that brings us up to date on a town we never heard of, Ida Grove, Iowa. We have been wracking our brain trying to remember any neighbors we have had formerly of Iowa without any success. The message of the letter, even though anonymous, is interesting and we would like to pass it on to our readers:

"In today's environment of reporting the sensational, it is appropriate to help broaden the editorial acumen of the news media.

"An unwed mother gave birth to the first born baby of 1974 in Ida Grove, Iowa.

"Like Lompoc, Ida Grove is a beautiful and serene community (pop. 2,275) on the banks of Badger Creek in northwest Iowa. It thrives on corn and hogs instead of sugar beets and flowers. It has never seen a missile launched.

"Ida Grove can also be editorially described as:

—The popcorn center of the world.
—The home of Senator Harold Hughes, former bass in the Ida Grove High School boys' quartet.

—The home of Ray Murphy, former National Commander of the American Legion.

—Past residence of your correspondent, former second tenor in the Ida Grove High School boys' quartet.

—The Ida County Pioneer Record, the weekly newspaper that believes "winning is more important than how you play the game."

Sort of makes me want to visit Ida Grove.

The trend toward smaller cars has not yet reached the underworld. Sgt. Michael A. Janero, head of the auto theft unit of the Cleveland Police Department is quoted as saying that 1973 full-size and luxury cars are still the most popular models with car thieves.

However, medium and compact cars are expected to attract more illicit attention as they become more numerous, and especially if there is gas rationing.

In other words, like any other "enterprises" serving a market, car thieves aim to please their customers.

If people would buy parts and cars only from legitimate dealers, says Janero, there would be no market for car theft rings. But as long as people are willing to buy cheap parts or "special deal" cars from dubious sources, car theft will continue to be a problem.

THOUGHTS WHILE SHAVING
Don't tell me the politicians are going to fool around with the clocks and time again? Very soon we won't know what day it is... We understand that the We Tip program, the program designed to turn in a dope pusher, is responsible for a $1 million dope bust in Los Angeles this week. Ought to pay a handsome reward ... When Vandenberg main gate decided to stop all cars in the early morning hours this week, we received some real harsh phone calls. One man said he nearly ran out of gas waiting to get through the main gate ... We never passed a single truck on a trip to Cal Poly campus this week but we were sure passed by plenty of them while we maintained the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit.

Letter to the editor

Dear Sir:

Kids are always complaining about their parents, but I'd like to say something good about mine.

My father and mother both work hard for me. My father is the director of the Boys' Club and gives a great deal of his time to boys who don't have fathers. My mother is a nurse and takes care of a lot of elderly people which takes up a lot of her time. But they both have time for me and my brother and sisters. We even have a foster sister who is mentally retarded with other handicaps. They try to give us what we want and we yell and scream when they can't, but that's just our regular family routine. My Mon and Dad's anniversary of 16 years is the first of February and I'd like to wish them happiness and hope they continue on making everyone happy like they have.
